PRESS RELEASE

Are you Harpenden's answer to Tiger Woods?

Free golf lessons for beginners and families at Aldwickbury Park Golf Club Open Day, including an amazing show by the World Golf Trick-Shot Champion

(Harpenden, Hertfordshire – March 20, 2008) Free golf lessons and an amazing show by World Golf Trick-Shot Champion Geoff Swain are the star attractions at a fun Open Day at Aldwickbury Park Golf Club, Harpenden, on Sunday April 6, 12 noon-4pm.

Families, new golfers and absolute beginners are all being welcomed to the special event, designed to get more local people into golf and experience the health and social benefits of one of Britain's most popular sports, played by four million people.

"Golf is a great game that can be enjoyed by men and women of all ages, and is ideal for families," said Tristan Hall, general manager of Aldwickbury Park Golf Club. "Golf is now much more accessible than it used to be and the idea of the Open Day is to give everyone the chance to enjoy their first experience of golf as part of a fun, informal day – and give kids a chance to play Tiger Woods' game for real, not just on a computer."

As well as free lessons with the club's teaching professionals (limited places are available, so pre-booking is essential), Aldwickbury Park Golf Club's Open Day will feature an entertaining and comical show from World Golf Trick-Shot Champion Geoff Swain, free rounds on the par-3 Academy Course, a hole-in-one competition to win a free membership, a greenkeeping demonstration, course tours, prize draw and sale in the golf shop.

Funds will also be raised for Grove House Hospice, St Albans.

To pre-book a free lesson, call 01582 760112.
